*WHAT COUNTS AS A "MESSAGE"?

A message is any communication sent to or from your Linkr device. For example, when you send a command to your Linkr, it counts as 1 message. If you have "FUNCTION CONFIRMATIONS" enabled, and your Linkr replies to your command, that also counts as 1 message. So in this case, your Linkr consumed 2 messages for one function.

Examples of "Messages" are:

- Sending your Linkr a command from the APP
- Your Linkr confirming it received your command. (This is programmable On/Off)
- Any Alert such as Speed Alert, Geo-Fence Alert, Security Fence Alert, Alarm Trigger, Low battery alert, Panic alert, Heartbeat alert, etc.
- A Firmware update request
- A Firmware update confirmation
- A Settings update request
- A Settings update confirmation

To help you get the most from your service plan, most automatic functions & replies can be disabled from the Linkr app. It's also easy to upgrade your plan later at a prorated cost without penalty!

DON'T WAIT! The normal $9.95 activation fee is waived until Jan 1, 2017!
